INTRODUCTION

Alongside economic activities in the field of health tourism, commitment to social responsibility and humanitarian values is not only an ethical necessity but also a strategic foundation for building international trust and sustainable global partnerships.

The Nasim Alrahma (Breeze of Mercy) International Campaign is intentionally launched during the blessed month of Rabi Al-Awwal 1448 Hijri, the birth month of the beloved Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him)—a time deeply associated in Muslim cultures with mercy, compassion, unity, and service to humanity.

Inspired by these timeless values, the campaign offers a global platform for healthcare providers, governments, and medical tourism stakeholders to collaborate in delivering equitable, dignity-centered healthcare beyond borders.

The Meaning Behind “Nasim Alrahma”

Nasim Alrahma, meaning “Breeze of Mercy”, reflects the spiritual and ethical essence of Rabi Al-Awwal—a month that commemorates a legacy of healing, compassion, and service to all humankind.

The name symbolizes a gentle yet powerful movement of mercy, reaching patients in need regardless of nationality, belief, or economic status.
